COUNTY TEACHERS CHOSEN BY BOARD

Madison-co. Will Have 300 High School Graduates This Year—Less Than 100 Last Year

The County Board of Education has decided to require all teachers to open the school program in the morning with devotional exercises. All schools will be required to have six hours of actual work exclusive of recesses. The teachers are required to visit the patrons and get into closer touch with all parents in the district. The teachers are to organize parent-teachers organizations and promote interest in school work and activities. Once each month a meeting of all the teachers of the county will be held in the court house at Richmond. These meetings will be held on the last Saturday of each month, although the first will be August 12. Special speakers will appear on the program at these meetings and school work and difficulties will be discussed by all.

Improvements are being made at many schools and additional rooms added where the attendance cannot possibly be accommodated in present quarters. At Johnson school, a church was secured because the attendance had increased so all the children could not be taught in one building. At Green Chapel another teacher is necessary to help handle the work.

In the entire county, according to Superintendent B. F. Edwards, there were less than 100 high school students last year. By having consolidated schools with grades and high school work done in one building, which is equipped and furnished to meet the needs of the students, the attendance has been materially increased. In the Waco High School alone this year, there will be at least 80 high school students. Union and Kirksville will each have 30, White Hall 25, Speedwell 23, and Richmond and Berea combined, 80. There will be about 300 high school students this year.

Sentiment in all communities is for the consolidated school. These buildings are now being equipped with water and lights and are becoming real community centers. At Scaffold Cane school, three miles from Berea, a grocery store is run in connection with the school. The students keep the books which they are taught to do by the principal. This brings the parents to the school where they see their own children at work and gives them an interest in school affairs.

A school census shows: white, male, 2,421; white, female, 2,297; colored, male 444; colored, female 470, making a total of 5,632 school children. In the county there are 26 illiterate children reported. Most of these are children who have moved in from the mountains and are not native born.

There are 200 elementary school graduates from the county schools. Teachers and their locations have been decided on by the county school board. They are:

KERENSKY TO TELL HIS EXPERIENCES

(By Associated Press)

London, Eng., July 20—Startling revelations respecting the dethronement and death of former Emperor Nicholas are promised by Alexander Kerensky, one time President of the Russian Republic, who has been quietly writing his memoirs in a London flat. Kerensky's plan was to spirit the Emperor out of Russia to some neutral European country or to the United States, but this, he contends, was frustrated by Great Britain.

The book of the former Russian dictator will begin with the inception of the war and cover the final collapse of the empire. It will explain not only the causes of the Romanoff overthrow, but the failure of Kerensky's own government.

The writer declares that if the Allies had been willing to let Russia remain passive for a period, they could have kept her as a valuable ally. The book will point out that the Entente insisted on Russia displaying energy on the front while in the throes of a revolution at home.

His own overthrow Kerensky attributes to simultaneous pressure from the two extreme parties, the Royalists on the right and the Bolsheviks on the left, aided by the hostility of the army.

Stanifer's Big Sale On

Mr. J. S. Stanifer, a hustling mid summer clearance sale Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Long before this hour a stream of bargain seekers awaited the opening of the doors to this big sale, and the store was crowded all during the day. Mr. Stanifer conducts a general clearance sale semi-annually and throws his entire stock into the sale. He believes in advertising. For the past week he has been billing this section of the state with seven or eight thousand circulars and the sale has certainly been broadcasted, far and wide. He certainly understands the ropes when it comes to putting on a sale. His sign and banner display in his windows is attracting a great deal of attention. The work was done by "Tim" O'Neil and Oscar Stanifer, who are master painters with the brush. The sale will continue for the next two or three weeks.

EX-MADISONIAN DIES IN WOODFORD COUNTY

Perry Thurman died at his home near Elm Corner on Wednesday night, July 12, at 8 o'clock aged 68 years and 6 months, says the Versailles Sun.

The deceased was born in Madison county on December 27, 1853, and was a son of James Thurman and Pauline White Thurman. He moved to Woodford county a number of years ago. He is survived by his wife and several children. Mr. Thurman was a highly esteemed citizen of the community in which he lived. He was a quiet, kindly, upright man, who was warmly regarded by all who knew him, a good husband, good father, and good man.

Funeral services were held at the residence on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. W. J. Gammon, pastor of the Troy and Elm Corner church. The burial took place in the Versailles cemetery.

Here's A New Game

Lexington, Ky., July 21—A new type of bandit has developed here. Carroll Carter, returning from a dinner party last night in an automobile alone saw the body of a man lying face downward in the middle of the road. The man's coat was over his back. Carter stopped the car and bent over the man to lift him. The fellow whirled over with upraised pistol. Another armed man dashed out from the bushes at the side of the road. Both robbers were masked. They robbed Carter of $8 and a gold watch, then with a gun thrust into each of Carter's sides forced him to walk a mile along the road, where the footpads jumped over a fence and disappeared in the darkness. No trace has been found.

LOCAL R. R. YARDS AFFECTED BY STRIKE

Passenger and Freight Service Show Quite a Fall Off—No Disorders Reported

Officials at the Louisville and Nashville railroad yards here state that general effects from the strike have been felt although nothing serious has happened. All passenger trains are running late, some seven and eight hours behind schedule time. There have been no excursions and will not be until conditions are improved. On June 26, which was before the strike, there were 44 trains going north through Richmond. Wednesday morning there were only three. Tuesday nine went north as compared to from 35 to 45 trains before the strike.

Local freight has been moving in and out at a fairly good rate but there has been some complaint by stockmen about the inability to move stock rapidly. There is a great shortage of stock cars. Wednesday between Rowland and Richmond, the company was 12 stock cars short. After these cars are loaded they are moved out in good time and reach their destination about as quickly as usual.

In a big organization like a railroad when there is something wrong in one department it affects all parts and so with the strike although local conditions are not serious.

STRIKERS PLACE PLACARDS HERE

Richmond was touched for the first time Thursday morning with anything out of the ordinary in connection with the present railroad strike other than the freight congestion. A warrant was issued and the case was heard before Judge G. Murray Smith charging strikers from Ravenna with posting placards in a local pool room without permission. Clarence Ballard swore on the stand that he had permission to put the placards up so the case was dismissed. The bills were written in an endeavor to keep "scabs" or non-union men from entering the railroad shops to take the places of the strikers.

Merchants Offer Many Bargains

The merchants of Richmond have the bargains for the people of this section. More than half a dozen merchants have started their summer clearance sales and there is no doubt that they are giving the people some splendid bargains. Among the merchants who are in the swim are Muncy Bros., Rice & Arnold, J. S. Stanifer, R. C. H. Covington Co. and L. H. Glazer. These sales should bring a lot of the country folk to town and put into circulation a big sum of money.

Pineville Will Have Three Coaches in Fall

Pineville, Ky., July 21—Three coaches will help Captain Abe Isaacs make winners out of the 1922 high school football team. M. W. L. C. Henderson, of Mississippi, has accepted a place on the school faculty and also will assist with athletic work. The Illinois man has played and coached all the branches of sport, is said, and has had two years' work in George Huff's famous summer coaching school.
